

Author's acknowledgments

Space will not permit proper credit of all those whose help, often generous, I received in putting this book together. It would be invidious to declare a master class but a greater sin would be not to acknowledge the constant help and support, beyond reasonable expectation, of Peter Blommers, Michel Boutin, Alessandro Castelli, Philip Cohen, Dan Glimne, Michael Keller, Eduard Riekstins and Edward Winter. This is not in anyway to diminish the valued assistance received from a host of people, several now sadly no longer with us, who kindly took time and trouble to provide me with information. I here express my appreciation to: Manual Aaron, Robert Abbott, Steve Addison, Viktor Afanasyev, Porter Arbogast, John Ball, Warren Ball, Richard Ballam, Leonard Barden, Erich Bartel, John Beasley, R. C. Bell, Dr Vladimir Belov, Donald Benge, Pierre Berloquin, Martin Blaine, Steve Boniface, John Bosley, Richard Bozulich, Tom Braunlich, Tom Brown, Josef Cacek, Grev Corbett, Jochen Corts, Wanda Dakin, George Dekle Sr, Patrick Donovan, Prof Thomas Drucker, Alex Dunne, Marco Fabbri, Bruno Faidutti, Richard Fireman, Mike Fox, Christiaan Freeling, Friends of St Albans Abbey, Fred Galvin, Vaclav Gamer, Martin Gardner, Tony Gardner, E. Y. Gik, Jerzy Gizycki, Wladislaw Glinski, Julian Grafa, Piero Grandese, Dr William Groman, K. G. P. Gunnell, Prof Vladimir Gurchich, Bill Hartston, George Hodges, Phil Holland, Malcolm Horne, David Howe, Robert Hübner, Fiona Idda, Randolph Jackson, Stephen Jackson, Michael Jameson, George Jelliss, Prince Joli Kansil, Neil Karl, Ray Keene, U. Khin, Ronald Kirkpatrick, Imre König, C. K. Lai, Paul Lamford, Max Lawrence, Mario Leoncini, C. G. Lewin, Fabrice Liardet, Isaak Linder, Dr Cedric Lytton, Roberto Magari, Pierre Marechal, Koichi Maskawa, John McCallion, Patrick McGuckin, M. Meirovitz, Egbert Meissenburg, Clifford North Merry, M. Miodonski, Manfred Mittlebach, David Moeser, Jonathan Moody, Steve Nichols, Paul Novak, Kiyoshi Ohnogi, Dale Oldfield, V. D. Pandit, Dr Richard Pankhurst, Alan Parr, Peter Parton, Werner Pohl, Sonny Polasit, Dr Vladimir Pribylinec, Alex Randolph, R. Ravi-Sekhar, Ian Richardson, Francis Roads, Timothy Rogalski, John Roycroft, Sid Sackson, Lothar Schmid, R. Wayne Schmittberger, Col. G. L. Sickerman, Sam Sloan, Peter Smith, Adam Sobey, Dr Eric Solomon, M. Sosnovsky, Stephen Stockman, Jed Stone, R. Teschner, Edgar Thermer, Prof Mitchell Thomashow, Anneke Treep, Dr Chris Tylor, Paul Valois, R. G. Wade, W. G. Wade, C. W. Warburton, Prof L. Weisinger, Bengt Wennerberg, Tom Werneck, Ken Whyld, Ulrike Wolz, David Woo, B. H. Wood, Iain Wood, David Wurman, Arthur Yaspan, Paul Yearout, Sergei Zubkov and all those inventors who me with supplied information and answered questions about their games.

Amongst librarians, I received assistance and encouragement from Rob Verhoeven (Royal Library, the Hague) and Alice C. Loranth (Cleveland Public Library), and also the help of the staff of the Bodleian Library, British Library, Cambridge University Library, Harvard University Library, National Library of Wales, Victoria State Library. Information was willingly supplied by a number of organizations including the British Chess Problem Society, the Deutsches Spielearchiv, Nihon Shogi Renmei, the Patents Office, the Public Record Office, the Royal Automobile Club, The Shogi Association, Stationers' Hall and the U. S. Chess Federation. I also wish to record my appreciation of a grant towards expenses I received from the Authors' Trust. My sincere apologies to anyone I may have overlooked.

Several people kindly agreed to check drafts of major entries: Peter Blommers, Alessandro Castelli, Malcolm Horne. They gave valuable advice and saved me from some gross errors. Finally, to my wife Elaine who cheerfully took over many tedious tasks and also numerous translations well beyond my competence.

Editor's acknowledgments

First and foremost, my thanks to David's widow Elaine for entrusting me with the task. It has been a fascinating and most instructive twelve months. I am also grateful to David's daughter Wanda and her husband Colin for sorting through the files on David's computer and presenting me with a copy of everything relevant, and to Wanda for reading through the penultimate draft and highlighting various errors and ambiguities.

Additionally, my thanks for help in sorting out various matters to Paul Archer, Peter Blommers, Peter Coast, Jochen Corts, Fred Galvin, Dan Glimne, David Levy, Fabrice Liardet, Peter Michaelsen, Jerzy Rosankiewicz, John Roycroft, David Sedgwick, Eric Solomon, and the libraries of the British Chess Problem Society and the British Chess Variants Society.

And to Sue for assistance in just about every way possible, with a great deal of moral support thrown in.