

6 : Sung by MARTIN with FANNY and COLIN joining in the chorus

One night, with friends, in merry chat,
 As Damon o'er a bottle sat,
 Fair Celia came to scold ;
 But he, still careless, gay and free,
 Cry'd, peace, my dear,—I drink to thee :
 Believe me, lass,
 A cheerful glass,
 Keeps love from growing cold ;
 Then haste we on,
 Our work t'have done,
 That wine and love may smile in turn.
 Then haste, &c.

All day shou'd toilsome business frown,
 Brisk wine at night our cares can drown,
 And set the heart at rest :
 O joy of joys, in merry glee,
 The purple beads in dance to see ;
 In circling glass,
 To toast the lass,
 That gives our wine a zest.
 Haste, haste we on, &c.
